When the rain began, my grandfather sat down in his old chair by the window. His knees were sore from working in the garden all morning. He said the rainy afternoon was boring unless someone told a story. “Let's go to the market and find a story,” I said. First, he made hot tea, and we drank it slowly in the kitchen. “It is a real pleasure to spend time with you,” he said. At the market, a woman had a crazy idea: she gave free hats to everyone. My grandfather told me that the Earth needs rain, so he never complains about it. Later we walked back home through the wet streets. On the way, he held my hand because the road was slippery.

> 雨開始下的時候，我爺爺在窗邊坐進他那張舊椅子裡。他整個早上在花園裡忙，所以膝蓋很痠痛。他說，除非有人講故事，不然下雨的下午很無聊。我說：「我們去市場找故事吧。」他先泡了熱茶，我們在廚房裡慢慢地喝。他說：「能和你相處，真是件愉快的事。」在市場裡，有位女士想到一個瘋狂的點子：她送免費的帽子給每個人。我爺爺告訴我，地球需要雨水，所以他從不抱怨下雨。後來我們穿過濕濕的街道，走回家去。路上，他握住我的手，因為路很滑。

She looked at them and made a funny face, and soon everyone was laughing. After that, nobody touched the cake until she said it was time. She sings well and plays the guitar, so we asked her to perform. Later, her grandmother in Japan watched the show on an online video call.
